Julian Cyr

Commission Chair

Julian Cyr has broad experience in public policy, health advocacy, and politics. He has served on the Commission since January 2011 and was elected Chair in December 2012. Julian is currently Director of Policy and Regulatory Affairs for Environmental Health at the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. Prior to this post, he was Deputy Director for Government Affairs at the Department. He organized on Governor Patrick and President Obama's successful re-election campaigns, and worked as a Harm-Reduction Counselor at the AIDS Support Group of Cape Cod. Previously, Julian interned at the White House, contributing to green jobs policy and energy efficiency at the Council on Environmental Quality in the Executive Office of the President. He has also worked for the William J. Clinton Foundation's Clinton Global Initiative. Julian studied public policy and community health at New York University, where he also led undergraduate student government. He is a native of Truro, Massachusetts.

Erika Rickard, J.D.

Commission Vice Chair

Erika works as an Assistant Attorney General and a resident tutor at Harvard College, where she mentors and advises LGBT and questioning college students and their allies. She has expertise on juvenile justice, youth homelessness, and child welfare issues. She has worked to implement the Massachusetts Bullying Prevention Law. A current member and Vice Chair of the Commission, Erika previously co-chaired the Oversight Committee and spearheaded the FY2014 Recommendations. She holds her J.D. from Harvard Law School and her Bachelor's degree from Mills College. Originally from Tucson, AZ, Erika resides in Cambridge.

Alexis Yioulos

Commission Vice Chair

Alexis previously acted as Advisor to the Commission and now serves as Vice Chair. She graduated from Danvers High School, where, through her involvement with Rotary International, she spearheaded a project to assist homeless women and children on the North Shore. She also co-founded Students United for Acceptance, a student-led organization dedicated to conducting transgenerational, community-wide outreach for acceptance. Both the Danvers Committee for Diversity and the North Shore Alliance of GLBT Youth honored her organization's efforts. Alexis attends Babson College.

Coco Alinsug

Administration Committee

Coco devotes himself to social justice, HIV/AIDS prevention, and LGBT youth issues and receives recognition both nationally and internationally for his relentless work. He has served as Executive Director of the North Shore Alliance of GLBT Youth (NAGLY) for eight years and the Clinical Trials recruitment manager at the Fenway Institute at Fenway Health for nearly six years. He consults various HIV and STD Outreach Programs located in the North Shore and Boston. Coco and his team travel around New England, educating people about HIV and STD transmission and safer sex. He also attends international conferences around the world as a polyglot fluent in nine languages. Originally from the Philippines, Coco resides in Lynn with his partner Peter and dog Albany.

Michel Anteby, M.P.A., Ph.D.

Administration Committee Co-Chair

Michel serves as an Associate Professor in the Organizational Behavior unit at Harvard Business School. He has taught in the School's M.B.A., doctoral, and executive programs. His research examines organizational and occupational cultures. Michel studies the building of meaning at work and the sustaining or moral order, documenting the processes by which individuals and organizations sustain their chosen identities. He holds a joint Ph.D. in sociology from the Ecole des Hautes Etudes en Sciences Sociales in Paris and in management from New York University. Michel grew up in France and previously volunteered as a mediator at the LGBT Community Center in New York.

Claire Berman, M.S.

Communications & Legislative Affairs Committee

Claire enjoys thinking creatively and sensitively to reach diverse audiences with health information. She specializes in health literacy, health narratives, and digital health communication. She has several years of experience working on issues of homelessness, health, and psychosocial support for LGBT youth. Claire serves as Director of Health Education and Communication for the Pediatric HIV/AIDS Cohort Study at the Harvard School of Public Health. Claire believes strongly in the power of dialogue and narrative to create change, as evidenced by her founding Inside Out Stories, a multimodal storytelling initiative that collects and shares stories of “being on the outside.”

Roger Bourgeois

Agency Relations Committee

Roger spearheads efforts in schools to create supportive environments for LGBT students and speaks to school communities as a parent of a gay son. He is Assistant Superintendent for the Technical/Vocational Network at Boston Public Schools. He has over 30 years of experience in vocational, technical, and agricultural schools as a teacher and an administrator. Research Committee

Sean is Director of Health Policy Research at the Fenway Institute in Boston, and also teaches public policy at the Wagner School of Public Service at New York University. At Fenway, Cahill is Co-Investigator on a community-based participatory research project addressing health disparities among LGBT youth of color in the Boston area, funded by the National Institute of Minority Health and Health Disparities. He wrote two books on LGBT family policy and coauthored LGBT Youth in America's Schools (2012: University of Michigan Press), as well as more than two dozen peer reviewed journal articles and book chapters on LGBT and HIV policy issues. Previously Cahill held leadership positions at the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force Policy Institute and Gay Men's Health Crisis. Sean chaired the Lesbian and Gay Political Alliance of Massachusetts in the 1990s.

Kristen Davies, L.M.H.C.

Communications & Legislative Affairs Committee

Kristen Davies serves as Director of the In Home Therapy program at Child & Family Services-Hyannis. She comes to the Commission by way of the Massachusetts Society of Suicide Prevention. Kristen's clinical expertise includes working with LGBT youth and families. The Lesbian Study Journal published her research in the area of woman coming out later in life. Now a Ph.D. candidate, Kristen is working on her dissertation.

Marc Dones

Administration Committee Co-Chair

Marc is a graduate of New York University's Gallatin School with a concentration in Psychiatric Anthropology. He was previously the Director of Strategy at the New York based New Media firm LupusDictum, which specializes in brand and campaign building for ethical causes. In January of 2012 he was appointed to the Massachusetts Commission on LGBT Youth, where he has previously worked on the Commission's communications as well as assisting with developing novel approaches towards research. In December of that year, Marc became the Assistant Director of the Safe and Successful Youth Initiative at the Executive Office of Health and Human Services. The program, focused on youth violence reduction, operates in eleven cities across the Commonwealth. Marc's work and research are around identity formation and maintenance in subculture settings. His essays and poems have been published in a number of publications, both print and web based. In his spare time Marc hangs out with his roommate's dog, rides his bike, and is generally impractical. His favorite color is chartreuse.

Julian Dormitzer, R.N., B.S.N.

Research Committee Co-Chair

Julian joined the Fenway Institute at Fenway Health and now works there as a clinical research nurse on the Adolescent Trials Network Team. She received her B.A. in Sociology and in Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies from Tufts University, where she was an active member of Students Acting for Gender Equality. While at Tufts, she completed a capstone project examining the contributions of feminist and queer theory to asexuality studies, and now serves on the board of Asexual Awareness Week. Hannah has experience working for a consulting agency specializing in nonprofits and spent several years as a freelance reporter for the York County Coast Star. Originally from Maine, Hannah currently lives in Somerville.

Jeff Perrotti

Director of the Safe Schools Program

Jeff Perrotti is the founding director of the Massachusetts Department of Elementary and Secondary Education's Safe Schools Program for Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender Students. He is the co-author of When the Drama Club is not Enough (Beacon Press, 2002). Jeff is a graduate of Northwestern University, University of California at Santa Barbara, and the Harvard Graduate School of Education. He has conducted numerous workshops on sexual orientation, gender, anti-bullying, resilience, and suicide and violence prevention for school administrators, counselors, nurses, coaches, teachers, parents, and students. For the past six years, Jeff has worked closely with vocational technical schools to support students who are interested in careers that are nontraditional for their gender. Jeff teaches and advises students at Harvard University, where he has received several awards for excellence in teaching. Jeff is a consultant for the Massachusetts Department of Elementary and Secondary Education and the Commission.

Anna Siembor

Safe Schools Fellow – Massachusetts Promise Fellow

Anna is a recent graduate of Northeastern University, where she received a BA in English and Linguistics with a minor in Women's, Gender and Sexuality studies. Her academic work focused on how multilingualism and gender identity affect linguistic communication in social work. She is passionate about her local Boston community and she is a board member at Fenway News. For the past four years, she has been affiliated with Girls' LEAP Self-Defense, first as a volunteer and now as a lead teacher. Previously, she held positions at Rosie's Place and the Northeastern University Writing Center. She is passionate about LGBTQ issues and she is very excited to join the Massachusetts Commission on LGBTQ Youth as their Safe Schools Fellow, working to expand and strengthen the GSA Network.
